3/4/72

On Saturday, 3/4/72, a state-wide conference sponsored by the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (SMC) was held at Ballantine Hall, IU, Bloomington, Indiana. The endorsers for the conference appeared on a handout and are attached to this report. The purpose of the conference was to discuss various anti-war actions that were to take place in April. The meeting was chaired by Paula Westfall and by an unknown white male. Approximately 100-125 people attended the conference including ten individuals from Indianapolis. Those individuals listed as Paul Mack, Dan Goodman, Steve Cooper, Charles Stoops (IU-PUI Student Center), Jim Perkins, Dick Leuchtag, Tim Curtin and Marty Laubach and two high school students (one from Decatur Central High School and one from North Central High School). The meeting began about 10:00 AM and all doors to the conference room were locked. The Veterans for Peace announced that its group was planning some sort of civil disobedience at Indianapolis at either the war memorial or the American Legion building. No other details were announced other than one individual making the quotation, "It will be had." It was also announced by various YSA members that ten individuals from Chicago would be coming to Indiana in an effort to canvass different cities within the state for obtaining 16,000 signatures for the YSA campaign petitions.

FOIA(b) (7) - (D)

It was announced that only 6,000 signatures were needed but because the YSA was well organized in the State of Indiana that 16,000 were expected. Arrangements for these ten individuals to come to Indiana are to be made by Steve Cooper and Ron Halderman.

Marty Laubach, who is working on the Corn Cob Curtain, is attempting to find a person to run for school board member in Indianapolis on the YSA ticket. Steve Cooper was approached by Laubach but declined to offer to run. Laubach shows great interest in the YSA and is a possible YSA recruit from the Indianapolis area. The Corn Cob Curtain is a local underground newspaper published by high school students, which is printed at COP-E Academy. Tim Curtin, who is an organizer for COP-E, was also present at the conference but did not take part in any active discussions.

Fred Halstead of the National Office of YSA, gave an emotional speech to the attendees of the conference about the war in Vietnam. Halstead appeared to be near tears when he talked about the war and drew a great amount of applause after his speech. Halstead stated that he had just returned from the Versailles Peace Conference in France. Halstead finished his speech by berating the Communist Party and its politics. Halstead stated that the CP is not in tune with the aims of SMC or YSA. After Halstead's speech, plans were discussed regarding the anti-war week which was to be held in Indiana the first week of April. Discussions took place regarding a march to Crane Ammunition Depot either on 4/8/72 or 4/15/72.

The Veterans for Peace led by Rich Leuchtag desired that participants in the march should begin from Bloomington and walk the entire 22 miles. The Veterans for Peace expressed two alternatives to that, in that participants could drive half way to the depot and meet the Vets walking or participants could join the march at the gates of Crane Depot. The Vets announced that the march would begin at 8:00 AM leaving Bloomington, and arrive at Crane at approximately 3:00 PM, at which time they would deliver an injunction to the commander of Crane showing that the people desired to shut down the depot with their bodies. The next announcement was that the presidential candidates Linda Jenness and Andrew Pulley will be in Indiana in April and May to deliver speeches in the Bloomington area and in Indianapolis if sufficient support is raised.

A small disturbance was caused by some of the old line SDSers who attempted to disrupt the meeting by placing slogans on the walls and distributing literature. These disruptive tactics caused hard feelings among the other attendees and there was a great deal of division at the meeting. Toward the end of the conference the SMC made a final proposal which since the meeting was SMC sponsored was carried with the support from the Veterans for Peace. The proposal was that SMC, in order to raise political consciousness about the war and thereby end it, that local and national mass actions are absolutely necessary and should compliment each other.

1. SMC endorses and actively builds toward the national action in New York City 4/22/72.

2. Indiana SMC proposes state and local actions the week of 4/1-8/72. This week will be called Indiana Anti-War Week and will culminate in the state-wide action at Crane Naval Base, which is responsible for one-third to one-half of the bombs dropped on the Indochinese peoples. The main purpose of the week would be to get out information about the war and about Crane Depot in order to build for the actions.

3. Indiana SMC proposes that the week of 4/15-22/72 be National Anti-War Week. The purpose of this week must be to get people to participate in actions on 4/22/72 and to keep the war as the number one issue. During the week of 4/15-22/72, such things as mass leafleting, peace fairs with rock bands, sign up tables, teach-ins, and the like are strongly recommended.

Paul Mack announced that a meeting will take place at his home on Thursday, 3/9/72 to discuss SMC plans regarding SMC proposals. It was also announced that a state SMC steering committee meeting will be held on Saturday, 3/11/72 to further discuss plans for implementation of the SMC proposals. This committee meeting will be held at either the residence of Paul Mack or Dick Leuchtag. In particular, plans will be discussed for advertising the march on Crane Ammunition Depot for Saturday, 4/8/72.

It was learned that Steve Cooper recently had a conversation with Victor Wallis, a professor in Political Science at IUPUI, regarding the YSA. Wallis stated that he did not believe that that YSA presented any united organization for the purpose that he was interested in. Wallis stated that the New University Conference and the New American Movement were the two groups that more closely follow his line of thinking. Wallis stated that the NUC has a program called Open Up the Schools (OUTS) which is rapidly growing in Michigan, and that the New American Movement encompasses the ideas of many of the New - Left groups thus making it a more viable organization. Wallis gave Cooper some reading material regarding the NUC. Wallis also told Cooper that there was to be a regional conference of the NUC in Chicago March 11 and 12 at University Church of the Disciples of Christ, 5655 South University Avenue. Wallis advised that he would attend.

It was also learned that the Corn Cob Curtain was being printed in Franklin, Indiana by the same printer that printed Grass Roots.

6 Sue To End 'Underground' Newspaper Ban

A suit filed in Federal Court in behalf of six youths charges that Indianapolis public school officials violated their constitutional rights by blocking circulation of an underground newspaper.

The suit was filed by Craig E. Pinkus, a Legal Services Organization attorney and official of the Civil Liberties Union.

Listed as plaintiffs are Jeff Jacobs, 342 South Temple Avenue, an Arsenal Technical High School senior; Susan Chandler, 58 North Audubon Road, a Thomas Carr Howe High School sophomore; Martin Laubach, 2511 East Michigan Street, who was graduated from Tech in January; Nancy Kood, 5425 East Pleasant Run Parkway, who was graduated from Howe in January; Sally Swan, 2927 East New York Street, a Tech pupil, and George Yarbrough, 708 North Dorman Avenue, who was graduated from Tech in January.

All six are identified as staff workers for the Corn Cob Curtain, which is laced with salty language and jabs at the "establishment."

Yarbrough was identified separately as a candidate who sought without success election to the Board of School Commissioners, contending that youths old enough to vote must be old enough to hold office.

On 8/17/72, the following individuals departed Indianapolis for Miami, Florida to participate in the activities relating to the Republican Convention held 8/21-24/72.

FOIA b 7 - D

Upon arriving at their destination, it was discovered that the caravan that had driven through Indianapolis had not yet arrived and it was later ascertained that the reason for the delay was attributed to waiting for another caravan somewhere along the way. The caravan finally arrived on the afternoon of 8/20/72.

Saturday was spent looking around and getting the general lay-out of the area. That night the Rolling Stones had a rock concert in Flamingo Park that was well attended

[Redacted Box]
FOIA b 7 - D

There were approximately 3500 to 4000 people who were camping in Flamingo Park and throughout the whole convention period there was a carnival atmosphere with the tourists wandering around taking pictures of everything and old men enjoying the sights and in general everybody having a good time. Sunday was more or less a giant get-together.

On Monday at approximately 5:30 P.M. Women's Lib had a march that originated from the park area and terminated at the Fountainbleau Hotel with about 300-500 participating.

Tuesday night the Vets and SDS co-ordinated a march that again originated at the park and terminated at the Fountainbleau.

The vantage point during the aforementioned marches was not good, however, there did not appear to be any violence.

Wednesday afternoon was spent making plans for the proposed activity for that night, which was to be a march on the convention center. There was a general meeting of all people in the park that seemed unorganized. While certain items began to be discussed, an individual (possibly from SDS) got on the stand and stated that they were stupid for discussing such things in the open because of the people that were present which included pigs, tourists etc. etc. After that comment the meeting was broken down into little groups which consisted mostly of people in a leadership capacity.

During the evening of 8/23/72, Wednesday, numerous demonstrators took to the streets near the convention center. It was observed that these demonstrators were throwing what appeared to be large stones and rocks at the local police and in the process there were some windows that were broken. Along Washington Street, which runs next to the convention center, demonstrators would rush to any area where there were convention delegates present and would harass them although none were observed to have been physically abused.

[Redacted Box]
FOIA b 7 - D

There were approximately 900 demonstrators arrested Wednesday and much less than that the other days.

The park was to have been cleared out Wednesday night

[Redacted Box]
FOIA b 7 - D

The Vets for Peace acted as the security element for the demonstrators throughout the whole convention period. It is felt that if it wasn't for the Vets, SDS and the Yippies and Zippies would have caused much trouble. During the Wednesday night episode, a large part of the Vets worked as "medics" and helped to keep order.

The following persons were known to be at the convention either through personal observation or from information received from others who had made observations.

July 13, 1972

On Monday, July 17, 1972 a meeting of local anti-war activists was held at 7:30 PM at the Talbott Inn, Talbott and 21st Streets, Indianapolis.

[redacted] FOIA b 7 - D [redacted]

[redacted] The purpose of the meeting was to plan a course of action to protest the war in Vietnam. It was decided that the most effective means of protest would be civil disobedience, but nothing concrete along those lines was decided. Another meeting is to be held on Thursday, July 20, to continue the plans.

It was learned that Richard Leuchtag is in California because of a sickness in the family. Leuchtag has mentioned his intent to go to Florida for the purpose of attending the Republican National Convention. Others planning to attend are Ron Byers, David Wilson, John Irwin, and Steve Cooper.

It was also learned that David Greene, Welfare Rights Organization, Racine, W. Va.; John Klines, Draft Counselling, Racine, W. Va.; and Jim Summerville, President of the Southern Mountain Counsel, Charleston, W. Va. are planning to attend the Republican National Convention.

It was further learned that Reed McFarland is planning to make a large contribution to the Socialist Workers Campaign. McFarland is employed by the Civil Liberties Union.

The Corn Cob Curtain vs. the Indianapolis School Board case goes to court on August 15 to see if CCC can distribute to the high schools.

C
CAROL CERNOUSKI met recently with JERRY CRIST and CAROL made the comment that she was leaving shortly for California with her mother.

There was a meeting on 10/19/72 of the Students for Social Change (SSC) held at the Teen Barn located near 88th/College near a Baptist Church. There were approximately one hundred persons present, mostly North Central High School students.

KEVIN McKASSON, a student at North Central appeared to be in charge. MIKE SAGE, a student at North Central , was also very active and his parents, who were very straight, were sponsors for this meeting. MADELENE FLANNERY, who may be out of school, was present and has also been seen at other rallys and demonstrations in the past. MADELENE has been on radio station WMAP (rapping) and works with YWD and SSC. MADELENE may start attending SMC meetings.

The meeting started with general discussion and shortly thereafter broke up into small discussion groups. The group headed by MIKE SAGE was discussing "Student Rights".

There were numerous copies of the "Conn Cob Curtain" throughout.

ANN DUTTON AND JERRY CRIST were present from SMC

JERRY CRIST recently called YSA Chicago and it was ascertained that PETER ARCHER, a Chicago YSA'er, was presently in Champaign, Illinois and would be in Indianapolis 10/26-27-28/72 to attempt to organize an Indianapolis chapter of YSA.

DIANE FORSTIN AND MACK DAVIS approached the Southport High School principle regarding the establishment of an SMC chapter there. The principle stated that one could not be organized there, however, literature could be disseminated.

10/31/72

The Peace Center located at 2123 North Talbot is planning to do a guerrilla theater in front of various churches each Sunday from now until the time that the war is actually over. Shanz Boilini, Mike "Shag," Bernie Survil, and Tanya are the most notable participants of these actions.

The Corncob Curtain, a local underground newspaper, came out with its first issue in late October and is working on another issue. Sally Swan is the news editor and appears to be the workhorse of that paper. It was also rumored that Marty Laubach is leaving the Indianapolis area and will be going to Berkeley, California.

The meeting resulted in the publishing of the attached sheet which is a position paper regarding the SMC. It was further decided at the meeting to eliminate all people who do not want to become involved and become action oriented in the SMC. It was further decided that SMC should merge with the Black Student Union at Indianapolis University - Purdue University at Indianapolis (IUPUI) because the Black Student Union presents the most active group.

On 1/11/73, a leaflet table was set up at the registration for IUPUI in the Activities Building. There was a large response to the activities table which was maintained by Steve Cooper. Approximately 40 slips of paper for registration for the trip to the inauguration of President Nixon were passed out.
